

Robin Hood's Cap

MATERIALS

Two, 9-by-16-inch felt pieces
Fabric glue or sewing machine

Scissors

Real or paper feather

Cut 2 triangles, 16 inches wide at the bottom and 9 inches tall. Use thick fabric glue or ask an adult to help you with a sewing machine. Glue or stitch the two edges of the cap together.

Fold the brim up in the back about 4 inches.

Snip 2 tiny slits and stick the feather through them.

(You can also make this cap from a large brown paper bag. Staple the edges instead of gluing.)

Cut 2 triangles.

Glue or sew the edges together.

Fold up a brim.
Stick in a feather.

This type of cap was called a bycocket. Boys and men wore them.
